For every shark captured in the Adriatic fishermen are to receive bounties ranging from $2 to $200, according to the variety and size of the fish.

Viscount Hayashi, of Japan, has informed the Scottish Anti-Tobacco society that the Japanese police confiscate the "smoking instruments" of any youth under 20 years, as well as his supply of the weed.

The Italian minister of agriculture has written to a German society for the protection of animals that his government will probably soon take action to check the wholesale slaughter of birds in Italy.

Today 130,000,000 of people speak English, 100,000,000 speak Russian (for not all the people of the empire talk the national tongue), 75,000,000 use German, 70,000,000 employ Spanish, including the inhabitants of the Latin American countries, and 40,000,000 speak French.

Ozone, the great purifier, is produced artificially by passing an electric spark through oxygen or, better, by the action of a high-tension current of electricity without sparking. It is also made in decomposing water by electricity. A mixture of ozone and oxygen appears at the positive pole.

Chinese residents of St. Louis will soon have a fellow countryman to fight their legal battles for them. Jen Tom, who has lived in this country for 24 years, has applied for admission to the bar. He came to America when he was 14 years old, and at the age of 20 returned to China to marry a girl whom his parents had selected for him.

The Empress Dowager of China is feeling the weight of her years and is anxious to have her last resting place made ready before she is "invited to become a guest of heaven." The Shanghai North China Herald says that something like $5,000,000 has already been spent on the proposed mausoleum, west of Peking, designated "the happy land of a myriad years."

The earl of Derby said at the meeting of the British Association for the Prevention of Consumption that light and air would do more good to the sufferer from tuberculosis than any medical treatment. Experience has shown in this country that the open air treatment has produced the most gratifying results. The experiment has been tried in many states and with good results.

The cathedral of the Holy Savior in Moscow is probably the most magnificent church in the world. Its five cupolas are covered with pure gold one-eighth inch in thickness. Its internal decorations are magnificent and very costly. This church is the largest than-cathedral of the deliverance of Moscow from the French. It took 30 years to build, and its cost has been estimated at $10,000,000 sterling.

Nan Patterson, the actress, found that her notoriety gained in her trials for the alleged murder of Caesar Young in New York was unfavorable to her. She was engaged by a theatrical firm at a salary of $200 a week to reappear on the stage. She was greeted by small audiences in her tour through Pennsylvania and quit in disgust and in tears at Altoona, Pa. Her first week. She has returned to her parents in Washington.

Memorial day this year came under widely different conditions from those which prevailed at all previous recurrences of the holiday. The restoration of all the battle-flags captured during the confederacy during the civil war has brought out expressions of warm appreciation from all parts of the South. The bill which ordered the restoration was introduced by a republican, passed each branch of the congress by a unanimous vote, and was promptly and cheerfully signed by President Roosevelt.

Germany, in common with most other European nations is carrying out the policy of promoting peace by preparing for war by making large increases in both her military and naval establishments. Under the provisions of the new army bill the strength of the German army on a peace footing will be increased until it reaches the number of 505,839 in 1909. This involves an addition of nearly ten thousand men, excluding, apparently, officers and non-commissioned officers, and one-year volunteers.

The dome of St. Isaac's cathedral in St. Petersburg is the most conspicuous object in the city. It is covered with copper, overlaid with pure gold, not less than $50,000 worth of gold being melted down for the purpose. Entering the cathedral by the magnificent bronze doors, 44 feet wide and 30 feet high, said to be the largest in the world, the visitor is overwhelmed by its richness and massive splendor. The dome of the shrine is supported by eight Corinthian pillars of malachite, given by Prince Demidoff, and valued at $200,000.

The robes of the Russian clergy are the richest in the world. In the house of the Holy synod, inside the Kremlin, may be seen vestments of fabulous value. One is embellished with the Nicene creed embroidered in pearls. There are no fewer than seven mitres studded with diamonds, rubies and emeralds, also golden crosses of rare workmanship. The boundless wealth, gorgeous decorations and endless magnificence of the churches are in strange contrast to the poverty-stricken, unkempt peasants who throng the churches at all hours of the day.

Relief of the Freightmen.

Workmen who are excavating for the new addition to the Hotel Savoy, at Ninth and Central streets in Kansas City found the hind wheels and axle of an old car wagon imbedded in the earth some 15 feet below the present street level. It is supposed that in the early days of the city some freighter struck a mudhole at that point and mired his wagon so deeply that he abandoned the back port rather than try to recover it with the means at his disposal. Later the hole was filled up, with the wagon wheels still in it, and with the growth of the city the whole depression of which it formed a part was raised to the level of the adjacent ground. The wheels are in an excellent state of preservation. The tires are, of course, somewhat rusty, but the woodwork shows no signs of decay, and with very slight repairs they would be ready for service again.

RUSSIA WAITING JAPAN'S MOTION

Time and Place for Settling the Peace Preliminaries.

NOT MUCH DELAY IS EXPECTED

Russia Would Prefer Paris, But Neither the Place Nor the Personality Will Make Any Great Difference.

St. Petersburg, June 12.—Russia is waiting for Japan to fix the time and the place when and where the Japanese terms will be placed in the hands of Russia's representative. The foreign office expects that the delay will be brief.

The emperor's government would prefer that Paris should be the scene of the initial step, but it is explained that neither the place nor the personality of the Russian representative matters greatly. The Russian representative will not be a plenipotentiary with full power to negotiate. His duty will practically be confined to the reception and transmission to his government of the Japanese terms for decision as to whether they afford a basis for actual peace negotiations.

He will be clothed with power to affect an agreement for the suspension of hostilities, which suspension will probably be for a very limited period, during which Russia must decide the momentous question of peace or a prolongation of the war. During this temporary armistice both countries probably will be free to continue the movement of troops and munitions of war within prescribed limits, although nothing definite on this point will be known until the meeting takes place.

The next step would be to proceed, regular plenipotentiaries will be appointed, the number being determined by the belligerents themselves, and it is not impossible that the negotiations might be transferred to Manchuria, as President Roosevelt is believed to have suggested.

It is stated at the foreign office that the question of plenipotentiaries has not yet been officially considered, but it is feared as almost certain that Baron Rosen, the ambassador to the United States, on account of his long and intimate acquaintance with far eastern affairs, besides his familiarity with Japanese, will be selected.

President Roosevelt also might be of service in arranging these preliminaries, but Russia would be disposed to respect his advice to settle all questions after the first meeting directly with Japan.

While proffering all the aid within his power, it is well understood that the president is desirous of bringing the representatives of the warring countries face to face, believes it would be to the best interests of all concerned that he step aside. The United States, it is recognized here, desires to keep all the powers out of temptation when the spoils of war come to be divided, and this position is considered to be the logical sequence of the pledges secured by Secretary Hay at the opening of the conflict.

"BETTER FEELING" EXISTS.

More Reasonable Weather Has Brought About a "Better Feeling" in Business.

New York, June 10.—Bradstreet's weekly review says:

The situation this week may be summed up in the phrase, "better feeling," which is predicated on rather more reasonable weather, allowing better crop progress, a larger volume of retail trade and improved re-order business at wholesale. These in turn are reflected in a more assured tone as to fall business in distributive lines. Relatively best advice comes from surplus crop producing regions, but the feeling at the south is likewise better. Against this is to be noted some temporary quieting, due to rains or cold weather in the northwest, the lake region and the east, while new business in iron and steel is smaller and prices are easing. All measures of trade movement still point unmistakably to large gains in all lines over a year ago.

JAPAN WON'T BE HASTY.

She Won't Throw Away a King Merely to Take a Pawn.

Tokio, June 12.—The Japanese continue to maintain an attitude of reserve toward the question of peace. There were demonstrations in the streets of the capital, late Saturday evening, and Sunday the students organized a celebration, but a rainstorm speedily cleared the streets.

It seemed to be the popular fear that Japan will sacrifice the advantage of Admiral Togo's victory as well as Field Marshal Oyama's opportunities by consenting to an armistice now. It is felt that Togo's victory opens the entire Russian Pacific coast to invasion, and that Oyama is capable of speedily taking Harbin, cutting the railway and isolating Vladivostok. It is also feared that the Russians will take advantage of an armistice to improve their positions and strengthen their forces.

There is a general demand that Japan carefully safeguard its interests if an armistice is declared.

Sunday brought no important developments in the situation. No information concerning Russia's formal answer to President Roosevelt's proposal has been received here, and the government reserved an attitude of silence.

GETTING OUT OF THE WOODS

Radical Move Made in Reorganization of the Equitable.

Paul Morton Elected Chairman of the Board of Directors and the Old Officials Resign.

New York, June 10.—Paul Morton, who retired from the secretaryship of the navy on July 1, was, on Friday, elected chairman of the board of directors of the Equitable Life Assurance society. His election marks the first and most important step in the reorganization of the society, and was followed by the tender of the resignations of President James W. Alexander, Vice-President James H. Hyde, Second Vice-President G. E. Tarbell, Third Vice-President George T. Wilson and Fourth Vice-President William E. McIntyre.

HON. PAUL MORTON.

The New Head of the Equitable Life Assurance Society.

The new chairman, to further quote Senator Dewey, did not consent to take office until he had received positive assurances that he would have a "free hand as to measures and men."

Mr. Hyde "divested" himself of the majority control, but, as made clear in his letter to the board, retains a substantial interest in the society.

All of the resignations submitted to the meeting are subject to the pleasure of Chairman Morton, and none has yet been accepted.

Just what action Mr. Morton will take as to these resignations was not disclosed, but it was strongly intimated that President Alexander and Vice-Presidents Tarbell, Wilson and McIntyre retired with the belief that their executive relations with the Equitable had ended.

The interests to which Mr. Hyde disposed of his stock number some two score individuals, led by Thomas F. Ryan, vice-president of the Morton Trust Co., which has close relations with the Mutual Life Insurance Co., one of the Equitable society's principal rivals.

The men requested to hold the majority stock by Mr. Ryan are former President Grover Cleveland, George Westinghouse, of Pittsburgh, and Morgan J. O'Brien, recently elevated to the chief justiceship of the appellate division of the supreme court of this district.

MRS. MYERS WAS CONVICTED

The Jury at Liberty, Mo., Found Her Guilty of the Murder of Her Husband.

Liberty, Mo., June 12.—The jury which has been sitting for the past week in the case of Agnes Myers, of Kansas City, charged with the murder of her husband, Clarence Myers, returned a verdict Sunday, of guilty of murder in the first degree. The verdict means that the death penalty—hanging—is to be inflicted. When the jury retired at 11 o'clock Saturday night it stood ten for conviction and two for acquittal. The jury continued its consideration of the case intermittently throughout the night, and the deliberations continued for several hours Sunday. It was not until the most urgent arguments were presented by the ten men in favor of conviction that the other two were prevailed upon to change their votes.

The crime for which Mrs. Myers was convicted was one of the most atrocious ever committed. According to the story of her husband, Frank Hotman, who confessed to being an accomplice with Mrs. Myers in the murder of her husband, the crime was premeditated and was executed in the most brutal manner. Hotman was tried last February for the crime and was convicted, and is now awaiting the death penalty.
